FEATURING PRINCESS FUMI HANCOCK, RN, DNP.

Bridging the gap between Africa and America

Feb. 13th, 2015
7:00 pm – 9:00 pm

Celebrity Centre Nashville
1130 8th Avenue South
Nashville, TN 37203

In honor of Black History Month, “Insight” will take a look at African roots and how Americans today can stay true to their ancestry. Hosted by Princess Fumi Hancock, an African Princess from Emure Kingdom, Nigeria, who after moving to the United States founded the Adassa Adumori Foundation which helps women & children in Africa.

A panel will discuss African culture today and how Americans may continue to stay true to their roots. Panelists include: Dawn Totty, Brenda Purcell, Yolanda Shields, and Dr. David Hancock. All will discuss their perspective on what it means to be a part of American and African culture. Her Southern Warrior Sister-Tribe (hosts of a popular Women-centric Radio Show) will be in attendance. There is no charge for the event. All are welcome!
